GARDEN GUIDE

ROCKFORD, ILL.

To My 100 000 Customers.

Another year has passed and has gone, never again to be passed in review, with the many pleasures and perplexities. We gain much in experience, but increasing age would be a heavy burden were it not that my determination to excel all others, stimulates me to renewed activity. Since my first attachment to the Seed trade, I have made it a special study and endeavor, to produce "GOOD SEEDS" at the least possible cost, which has enabled me to cut prices down to the lowest possible limit, consistent with running expenses, and the capital used. I submit my prices to the public, and if there are any varieties which in the opinion of my Customers is quoted too high, just speak it right out, and let me know what it is, after taking into consideration the cost of postage, wrappings, and the necessary labor to place it in the hands of a Planter. I want every Customer satisfied, and I will make them more than satisfied, if I have to dispense with the least bit of profit, so consistent in legitimate trade. I cannot tolerate the too continual, and incessant "chirping" by eastern dealers that "Good seeds cannot be sold cheap." I fearlessly say; they can be sold cheap; and I do sell them cheap; and I have sold them cheap for many years; and I will continue to do so, as long as I am able to finance the largest business of the kind in this country. I now have near a hundred thousand Customers who can; and will try to stand by me in this endeavor. I was born on a farm; and was raised at farming and seed growing; and will, no doubt; end all my days, dabbling in seeds for the Planters.

Am I not as well qualified to provide "Good seeds cheap" as the dealers in the greater Cities, who never saw a farm except by Illustrations on paper, or taking pleasure drives, while we all were in our fields, toiling under a scorching sun.

Remember: Brother Planters, that your success depends entirely upon the quality of the seeds you plant. With poor seeds; you will fail entirely. With only ordinary seeds; you will only pay expenses, and scarcely that; but with "GOOD SEEDS" you realize your profits. Bear all this in mind when you are purchasing seeds.

Compare Catalogues.

I wish you to compare this Catalogue; page, by page, with every other that you can obtain, and you will see that it is far more thoroughly illustrated than any, or all others in the world. I have Engravers under my own supervision to execute all my Illustrations. It has cost a great deal of money, but I have not taken it out of your pocket by increasing prices, nor by charging high prices. I simply took the greater share of the small profits, to lavish on a beautiful Illustrated Catalogue, to please, and instruct its many readers, and make their home happy. It is but a few years at best, before you will have to miss this old Soldier from his annual visits, and these Garden Guides are the only treasures I can leave you for a remembrance of a once happy; honest; cheerful; hard-working; life-long Farmer; Gardener, and practical Seed-Grower.

Seeds delivered at your home.

In order to always provide my customers with fresh seeds, I refuse to send out boxes of them to be sold on commission, therefore, I have no old seeds returned.

I adhere closely to selling direct to the Planters, because this plan insures fresh seeds every year, and as I pay transportation, it really places my stores within your easy reach. You can select a supply from this Catalogue, and inclose the pay, and in a few days, you will get them all fresh and perfect at your own Postoffice. Admirable system for obtaining Seeds.

FARMER, GARDENER, SOLDIER, SEED GROWER, AND DEALER.

First Enlistment, June 2nd, 1862, Co. A, 67th, Reg't. Ill. Vol. Infantry. Re-Enlisted, February 2nd, 1865, Co. G, 153rd, Reg't. Ill. Vol. Infantry.

The above Portrait is not a fancied one, dreamed of through an Artists brain, but was engraved direct from my Photo which was taken with my Pet Squirrel sitting on my shoulder, while eating an acorn. The Engraver did not preserve the facial expression as accurately as I desired, yet it gives something of the general appearance of the one, from whom many of you have bought seeds during the last quarter of a century. Remember: you are not now dealing with a City born Aristocrat. My whole aim, and desire is to convince all the planters of the west that they can buy "GOOD SEEDS CHEAP" direct from a responsible, and careful Grower.

How would you like to know where Seedsmen get so many varieties?

It is a remarkable fact, that all varieties will not produce seeds in the same climate, nor latitude. Many varieties will not produce seed except in favorable localities. All early sorts are grown as far north as they can be made to bear seed; and all others are grown in their favorite climates. Flower seeds are grown largely in Germany, Italy, France, England, and California. I now have about 3 score of Growers who are not under my own eye; but they are life long professionals at their avocation. My distant Growers are located as follows. Germany 3, Italy 1, France 3, England 2, Mexico 1, California 5, Washington 3, Dakota 1, Kansas 3, Iowa 3, Nebraska 4, Pennsylvania 3, Georgia 1, Florida 1, New York 6, Connecticut 3, Ohio 3, Wisconsin 3, Minnesota 3, and Illinois, a great many. When a dealer says that he grows all his seeds, it is not necessary to reflect for a moment, to understand that it is a falsehood. Such varieties as Cauliflower and Broccoli, will not produce seed in the middle and northern states. All such varieties as Beet, Lettuce, Celery, and many other sorts, cannot be grown here except at a loss. All varieties of Peas for seed purposes, must be grown north of a center line of the great Lakes, or they will be full of bugs, or pea weavles. All varieties of vines, such as Melons, Pumpkin, Squash, Cucumber, Tomato, and some other sorts, are at home right here in the middle, western, and north-western states. We can beat the world on them, and we grow them for European Seedsmen, by the thousands of pounds. You will now realize what a great expense, trouble, worry, and anxiety, surrounds a great seed business. I have now given you much information which no other Seedsmen would do, because they prefer to keep their Customers ignorant of the mysteries of the seed business, and of course, other dealers will not appreciate the freedom I take in giving to the public, this knowledge pertaining to all their trade. I have no secrets about my business that I wish to keep from my Customers. I prefer to keep them well informed. I wish I had more space and time, to farther instruct my Customers into the mysteries of the business, and the supplying of near a hundred thousand Families with Seeds, which I have had grown in nearly every country on the face of the Globe.

What I keep in stock.

I have many inquiries for sorts which I do not keep in stock. In reply I wish to say, that I can furnish only such varieties as I quote in this catalogue, for I have none others to offer. For field varieties, such as Buckwheat, Clovers, Grass Seeds &c, see miscellaneous list, on the wholesale page.

Benefit to Neighbors.

You cannot do your friends a greater, and more lasting favor that will be appreciated than to secure their orders and forward them with your own, and convince them that there is an honest, cheap, liberal, and fully reliable western Seedsmen who will give them more for their money than they can possibly expect. For such favors I always add a liberal supply gratuitously.

500 000 packets free.

Your orders will receive extra packages of a lot of new sorts, in quantity, corresponding with the amount of your order. For this purpose, I secure many rare, new sorts, and send out for trial, and testing, which will be of the greatest value to patrons. Send your order soon as you can after having received this Catalogue; and while the extras are plenty, and we have ample time before the greatest of our spring rush begins.

If you do not receive extras with your orders, it is an error of a Clerk, or the supply exhausted late in trade-season.

What I pre-pay on.

I prepay all the postage and express charges, except when selected from the wholesale page, or by the half peck, or peck, or bushel. When a quantity is ordered from wholesale list, or by the peck or bushel, I reserve the privilege of inclosing in the sacks, or packages, such small packets as may be ordered. For this privilege, I add sufficient extra to well satisfy Patrons, and it does not increase the transportation charges. Order a supply every year, and you will receive future catalogues when issued.

How to send paym't.

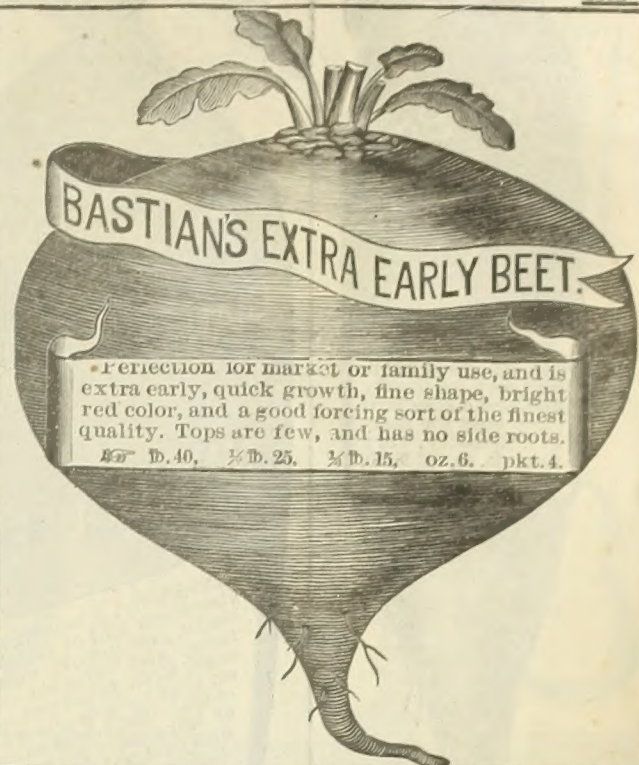

Remittances must be made with orders; either by Money Order, Registered Letter, Postal Note, Bank Draft, Express Order, or by any approved method. Will accept stamps if other methods are not within reach. R. H. Shumway.
